

A goal-oriented approach to writing social media content maps back to organizational objectives and is steered by foundational strategic marketing and messaging documentation. Social media managers follow a four-step process in planning and producing content according to nine key guidelines for developing three distinct types of content. (Goal-oriented social media writing approach and diagram by Joshua DeLung.)